G3 laboratory-The Fossil Hunters.

A few weeks ago, the children in class 3, did the fossil hunter's project and they made 2 fossils with: teacher Mariangela, teacher Maureen and teacher Marcella, they made it with: clay, a shell, plaster and then they took it out leaving the shape of the shell. Also they made another one with das, they did it because they are studying dinosaurs in history. They did it in class, They did a wonderful lab.

After this the class went hunting for fossils in the school grounds using an orienteering map. The children found many amonites on walls and pavements. They loved this hunt.

WORLD CHILDREN'S DAY.

The primary school, for the World Children Day 20TH November 2020 did different activities: class1 watched a video about children's rights then they talked about the video. Class 2 talked about rights.

Class 3,4 and 5 did a poster and talked about rights for example: the right to freedom. Class 3 looked at natural rights. We also discussed how we can help other children to have rights for example if we pollute the other children don't drink clean water and eat healthy food. Class 4 in particular discussed this point. The activity was great fun and educational.

We don't know every right but we know a lot more now.

Article 2 - group 3- Penfriend Project

In november class 4 started the penfriend project because they want to know more about the children of class 4 and about their school called Bleak Hill, in St. Helens, England. In the first letter they spoke about their age, their town, the seven lessons of English we do a week; their family, hobbies and sports they do. At the end of the letter they asked the children to write some personal information. They also sent a Christmas card to their penfriend and some sent a picture of themselves.

Also my class is in this project, but we started 1 year before and we write to class 5. We are waiting for a reply to the letter we sent and also sent a Christmas card, too. It is a beautiful project.
